

Checks done, and it's time for fun

The process includes looking for symptoms of hand, foot and mouth disease as well as for Covid-19 before the children enter the centre. The little ones also sanitise their hands before stepping in.

While primary school pupils and secondary students in Singapore start their school term today, all Little Skool-House centres in Singapore opened yesterday. ST PHOTOS: NG SOR LUAN
