

Planting seeds of knowledge about food sustainability

Elizabeth Fidelis Quah (left), seven, and Adel Zuraidi, nine, harvesting vegetables during NTUC First Campus Outdoor School Singapore's Marketplace Marvels holiday camp, at the Grace Mission Agri urban farm on Dec 20. They were among 12 children who experienced the life of an urban farmer during the third and final day of the non-residential camp. The camp aims to impart knowledge about Singapore's food sustainability and resilience in a fun way through games and experiential learning. ST PHOTO: JASON QUAH

